

Panel 1b – The Prevent Strategy

Chaired by Joe Whittaker

Conference Room

Exploring the capabilities of Prevent in addressing radicalisation in cyberspace within Higher Education

Liam Sandford, University of Gloucestershire

Street level bureaucrats: Administering the Prevent Strategy between national security and safeguarding

Tom Pettinger, University of Warwick

How schools 'do Prevent': Policy enactment and practice

James Lewis, Lancaster University

10:30 Break

10:45 Panel 2a – Online Propaganda and Social Media Regulation

Chaired by Nick Johnson

Room 141

The mediums and the messages: Exploring the language of Islamic State through sentiment analysis

Logan Macnair, Simon Fraser University

The war of words: Global Jihad through local messaging

Joesph Ataman, Harvard University

Regulating social media: due process and tactical displacement

Amy-Louise Watkin & Sara Correia, Swansea University

Panel 2b – Terrorism in the MENA Region

Chaired by Dr Rachel Monaghan

Conference Room

Exploration into use of terrorism in the Lebanese civil war 1975-1990

Nicholas Bradley, University of St. Andrews

Jewish political violence and terrorism: counter-culture and political developments in the Jewish counter-culture communities in Israel

Veronika Poniscjakova, University of Nottingham

Does the securitisation of the terrorist threat undermine democratic freedoms and therefore the process of democratic consolidation in Tunisia?

Rosa Maryon, Cardiff University

12:00 Panels 3a – Future Responses and Recommendations

Chaired by Sara Correia

Room 141

The role of youth on the 5th wave of terrorism

Beatriz Lopes Buarque, University of Westminster

Terrorist learning: The role of technology on terrorism

Ahmad Duwan, Birmingham City University

Counter-terrorism security and crowded places:

The importance of incorporating security into design

Alasdair Booth, Loughborough University

Panel 3b – Understanding Ideology, Kinship and Political Activism

Chaired by Amy-Louise Watkin

Conference Room

Extremist political stickering: An analysis of Perth and Swansea street-based political activist behaviour

Nick Johnson, Edith Cowan University

Rehabilitating ideology: Understanding the role of ideology in political violence

Mark Youngman, University of Birmingham

The ties they find: Terrorists' use of blood, land and time in the construction of kinship

Simon Copeland, Lancaster University

13:15 Lunch

14:15 Panel 4a – Terrorism and Law

Chaired by Dr Katy Vaughan

Room 141

Holy terror and international law; grasping the supernatural component of modern conflict

Christopher Morris, University of Northumbria

Legal response to cyberterrorism

Xingxing Wei, Cardiff University

Addressing a state's accountability for its human rights obligations when adopting counter-terrorism measures

Paul Dale, University of Birmingham

Panel 4b – Recruitment and Radicalisation

Chaired by Professor Stuart Macdonald

Conference Room

Echo chambers and online radicalization

Joe Whittaker, Swansea University, Leiden University, ICCT

How and why do people get involved in violence organisations (VOs)? Visual recruitment strategies as a driver for recruitment

Sheelagh Brady, Dublin City University

The correlation between Colonialism and modern-day radicalization and extremism within the British and French Muslim communities. A comparative case study exploring integration success, failures and risks. My observations and reflections as a British born 2nd generation Muslim

Mohammed Ali, East London University

15:30 Panel 5a – Crime-Terror Nexus

Chaired by Annabelle De Heus

Room 141

“Islamist Mafias”: A new perspective to the study of the crime-terror nexus

Luciano Pollichieni, University of Nottingham

Those who peace eluded: Rethinking the narcoterrorism myth in an Andean Region

Laura Sharkey, University of St. Andrews

Panel 5b – Countering Terrorism at the Local Level

Chaired by Logan Macnair

Conference Room

Communities and counter-terrorism: Considering the local dimension in U.S. and U.K. cities

Talene Bilazarian, University of Oxford

Increasing community cohesion: Examining mechanisms of collective identity construction in multicultural Britain to increase psychological community resilience to terrorism

Linda Schlegel, Konrad Adenauer Foundation

16:30 Keynote

Automated Regulation of Extremist Online Content and the Rule of Law

Lecture Theatre

Professor Stuart Macdonald, Swansea University

17:15 Drinks Reception

#STRPG2018 @SocTerRes

Society for Terrorism Research Conference

Friday 8th June 2018

Richard Price Building, Swansea University
Singleton Campus, SA2 8PP

#STRPG2018

08:45 Registration

Richard Price Foyer

09:00 Welcome & Refreshments

Richard Price Foyer

09:15 Panel 1a – Terrorism and Human Rights

Room 141

Chaired by Katerina Pitsoli

Terrorism, the law and the new ‘normal’ diminished rights protection

Dr Katy Vaughan, Swansea University

National security detention model of suspected terrorists:

From a human rights perspective

Ayesha Chowdhury, Leeds Beckett University

State responses to terrorism in social media: Which impact on human rights?

Katia Bouslimani, Université Grenoble Alpes

